1. To choose all necessary town officers for the year ensuing.

2. To raise such sums of money as may be necessary to defray town charges for the ensuing year, and make appropriation of the same.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

I herewith submit this my fourth annual report to the school board and citizens of the Town of Hopkinton.

The work of the year has, in the main, been successful and progressive without any features that can be called striking or radical. The teachers have generally been loyal and faithful in their work and have co-operated to serve the best interests of the pupils. But few changes have been made in method and these were to follow more closely the state program of studies and to put into operation those things which have been successful elsewhere.

Our aim has been the preparation of boys and girls for citizenship, and how to make this the best; and how to give to youth such an outlook upon life that he may be best prepared to face honestly and courageously the difficulties which he is sure to meet is the problem which faces us to-day. Whether the schools shall follow tradition and aim at college preparation, or whether they shall take up the preparation for life along industrial lines and secure a greater appreciation for the work of father and mother are the great questions to be answered.

We have done something to solve these problems in our high school. I believe that we have proven that we can gather the best of the new about the best of the old and give our pupils a preparation for country life without weakening that preparation which time has proven to be essential. Our progress should be constructive and conservative, not destructive and radical.

Much attention has been given to the improvement and the adjustment of text-books as in other years. But the demands in the grades and rural schools have not been satisfactorily provided for. There is a need for reading material which should be met by an appropriation of at least one hundred dollars each year for the next few years. The new courses and the larger classes in the high school have drawn quite heavily on our funds, but we can not afford to hire good teachers unless we give them satisfactory tools with which to work.

The teachers have been directed in method and helped in the solution of problems of management. The essential subjects have received our special attention and much that is distinctly cultural and important has been omitted on account of the short school year. It seems to me that the greatest need of the schools is a longer school year. The average of the state is thirty-four weeks. Only the poorer or non-progressive towns have thirty and less. It seems that an expenditure of about five hundred dollars would bring us up to the average. If we have your co-operation and can secure a longer school year, I believe it is advisable to do in our larger schools what we are beginning to do in the town of Weare. Manual training, something of sewing and a little cooking can be done in a one-room school and much more can be done in Hopkinton village where the rooms are not crowded. If the parents of Hopkinton demand this, I believe we can do there what is being done in similar schools elsewhere.

Nearly all of the teachers are reading along professional lines. They are keeping in touch with the best things. I believe that nearly all of them can keep pace with the times and meet the demands required by the new courses. We are grateful for the general co-operation which we have received from the teachers.

Five rural one-room schools and the village schools at Hopkinton and Contoocook have been maintained thus far during the school year. Approximately 174 pupils have been generally regular in attendance in the grades and 50 in the high school.

The school buildings are generally in good condition. There has been some trouble with the running water and the heating at Hopkinton. The work there has been hindered to a slight extent owing to these unforeseen troubles. There is an imperative need in the larger schools for individual seatings and those which can be more perfectly adapted to the size of the child.

We ask your support and co-operation in making the schools of Hopkinton real live institutions for the training of the youth for citizenship by the use of methods calculated to employ the natural buoyant loyal spirit of the pupil and by introducing the substance of life and its activities into the work of the school. By this method we shall be able to demonstrate that even the isolated country school, while it shall continue to exist, may be made to merit the praise of the community in which it is found on account of the impetus and the ideals of living that the school inculcates. Such an ideal is guiding us in our present movement toward industrial and manual arts courses and is not impossible of accomplishment, but it requires the active participation of a superintendent and the co-operation of school officials, teacher and parents.

I take this opportunity to thank the Woman's Club and others for their gifts and support in the developments of the schools.

Respectfully submitted,

E. J. BEST.
